chameleon brings
your message to life

The Chameleon system is the perfect interior display and signage solution for ever-changing display environments, whatever the marketing message and wherever you need it.

Consisting of a lipped steel tile with a protective cover, Chameleon allows you to create marketing displays which can be cost-effectively altered to suit your latest promotion, product launch or ad campaign.

Sophisticated in design, Chameleon combines a limitless number of tile components in any domino-like combination. Simply insert your printed material, slot the non-reflective acrylic cover panel and Chameleon brings your message to life.
